Allegro Charter School of Music often has opportunities for positive media coverage — either from outside media sources or in house for promotion of our school — of special events, accomplishments, or initiatives while students are at or participating in school sponsored events. Allegro encourages media coverage so that the citizens of Charleston County may learn about the great things that students and teachers are doing at our school.

Unless you object, your child may be included in such media coverage at Allegro sponsored events. This may include still photographs; articles on the school website/Facebook page, in newspapers and educational literature; videos; and/or audio recordings.
